

GOVERNOR INFORMATION

Paul Samways

I am a staff governor and have been for 10 years. Since 2003 I have been the Head of English at Presdales, a role which also involves line managing the Drama subject. I attended the University of Wales in Swansea, where I completed an English Literature degree in 1995. From Swansea I went straight into teaching. I have taught English at Amman Valley, Dyfed; Priestlands School, Lymington; and Freman College, Buntingford, where I was the Head of Drama and Second in English.
